Referrals/No Referrals Needed for Mammograms

Campbell County Memorial Hospital: No referral is needed for a routine screening mammogram, but a referral is needed for diagnostic services. If clients require diagnostic services and don't have a provider, they are given a list of providers to follow up with.

Cheyenne Radiology: A referral is always needed.

Torrington Community Hospital: No referral is needed.

Evanston Regional Hospital: No referral is needed for a routine screening mammogram, but a referral is needed for diagnostic services. If clients require diagnostic services and don't have a provider, they are referred to Dr. Ian Kendrick.

Hot Springs County Memorial: No referral is needed for a routine screening mammogram, but a referral is needed for diagnostic services. The client does need to have a provider for the hospital to send the results to.

Iverson Memorial Hospital: No referral is needed for a routine screening mammogram, but a referral is needed for diagnostic services.

Powell Valley Healthcare: No referral is needed for a routine screening mammogram, but a referral is needed for diagnostic services.

Sage West Health Care: No referral is needed for a routine screening mammogram, but a referral is needed for diagnostic services.

Johnson County Healthcare Center: A referral is always needed.

Memorial Hospital of Carbon County: No referral needed for routine, screening mammogram. Clients need to have a provider to send results. Referral needed for diagnostic services.

Memorial Hospital of Converse County: Referrals are preferred, but self-referrals are accepted on occasion. Without a referral, results are sent to the client. If clients require diagnostic services, they are referred to a provider.

Memorial Hospital of Sheridan County: No referral is needed.

Memorial Hospital of Sweetwater County: This hospital has a list of self-referral doctors; if the client goes to a doctor is on the list, no referral is needed.

North Big Horn Hospital: No referral is needed for a routine screening mammogram, but a referral is needed for diagnostic services.

South Big Horn Hospital: A referral is not needed if the client's provider is affiliated with the hospital (including Midway Clinic); otherwise, a referral is needed.

Outpatient Radiology: No referral is needed for a routine screening mammogram, but a referral is needed for diagnostic services.

Platte County Memorial Hospital: A referral is always needed.

South Lincoln Medical Center: No referral is needed for a routine screening mammogram, but a referral is needed for diagnostic services. The client does need to have a provider for the hospital to send the results to.
